Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor.
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1889.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A live and growing city of 5,000 inhabitants, situated in a county of 40,000. The Louisville and Nashville has two lines of railroad in the county and the people have recently voted aid to two new roads. Largest tobacco growing county in the world. Wheat, corn, hay, coal, livestock and fruits produced for export in large quantities. The city has four banks with an aggregate capital of $450,000. A planing mill and wagon factory, three carriage factories, line factory, tobacco manufactory, two foundries, three brickyards, broom factory, steam laundry, ice factory, two large flouring mills in the city and several in the county. Splendid driving park and fine opera house. Five turnpikes centering in Hopkinsville. Building and Loan Association, Commercial Club, a telephone exchange, numbered streets and houses and city lighted by gas. Macadamized streets and brick sidewalks all over the city. Eleven churches, two colleges, a high school and the finest system of public schools, white and colored, in the State. Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum with a population of 600, two miles east of the city. A $100,000 court house with town clock in the dome. A fine fire department and a company of State Guards. Little favor furnishes an adequate supply of water for all purposes. Real estate low and rents cheap. Fine opening for woolen mill, pork packing establishment, fruit cannery, tannery and many other enterprises. Climate mild and invigorating and exceedingly healthful.

The Clinton Democrat has put in a new Campbell press and an Acme paper cutter.

The Kentucky Prohibitionists in convention at Louisville nominated Adam Cobb for State Treasurer, election next August.

A little three-year-old child of Mr. G. E. Johnson, telegraph editor of the Courier-Journal, died of diphtheria a few days ago.

The Prohibitionists held a national gathering at Louisville last week, which was attended by 500 delegates from all over the country.

The Clarksville Cultivator, reported as dead, is still appearing as usual and denies most emphatically that it has ever suspended publication.

A man named Chew got two votes for Senator in the West Virginia Saturday. Why not choose Mr. Chew and give the paragraphers a fresh subject?

Joe C. Klein, the American newspaper correspondent who figured in the Samoan troubles, has arrived at San Francisco. He left Samoa Feb. 1st, to escape arrest by the Germans.

Bishop H. N. McTear, the head of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, died at Nashville Friday, after a long illness. He was 65 years of age and had been a Bishop for 23 years.

Mrs. Cleveland held her last public reception—for this term, at least—last Saturday. She was assisted by several ladies, including Mrs. C. J. man, wife of the new Secretary of Agriculture.

Most of the packers of lake ice in the Northern ice regions are reported as having filled their houses and will be able to supply all demands next summer, even if there should be no other ice spells.

Streeter, the Labor candidate for President, wants the Prohibition and Union Labor parties to consolidate and endorse each other's platform on certain questions pertaining to liquor and labor.

Mrs. Chas. M. Hauser and Geo. H. Kene, both of them married, who eloped from Austin, Tex., Jan. 16, have been arrested at Memphis, where they had married and gone to house-keeping Jan. 29.

The Supreme Court of Tennessee has sustained the claim of Evans, Italian, in the Bates-Evans contest, in the Chattanooga Congressional district, and the certificate has been issued to him by Gov. Taylor.

The latest revised Cabinet slate includes the names of Blaine, State; Windom, Treasury; Rusk, War; Thomas, Navy; Noble, Interior; Eide, Justice; Wainwright, Post-office; Miller, Agriculture. With one or two exceptions these are regarded as certainties.

Frank Gregory, late managing editor of Louisville Commercial, has become editorially connected with the Owensboro Messenger, already one of the best papers in the State. Gregory will improve any paper he writes for.

An esteemed Louisville correspondent warmly urges the name of Hon. J. A. McKee for Governor. Mr. McKee's friend are divided as to what he should have, but all agree that the time has come when a fitting recognition of his great party services should be made.—Owensboro Messenger.

A test case against the sureties on Tate's bond was called in the Franklin Circuit Court Saturday. The general opinion is that the State will not be able to recover anything from the sureties, from the fact that Tate's accounts were examined annually and certified to as correct by the proper officers.

A. N. Taylor, of Fort Worth, Tex., formerly editor of a paper at Fulton, came near dying last week from poison taken into his system from incessant smoking of cigarettes. This is the story as it is going the rounds, but we are unwilling to believe that any man who has ever been a Kentucky editor could fall so low as to become a cigarette smoker. There must be some mistake about it.

The editor of the Fulton Fultonian hoastfully announced the other day that Western Kentucky was leaving the rest of the state far behind in progress and development. The Georgetown Times copied his remarks and added:

"Get out!" You were never in Central Kentucky and know nothing about our railroads, fine schools, fine stock, good people and pretty women. Come up and see us."

The interesting part of this little dialogue lies in the fact that the name of one of the prettiest girls in Scott county appears at the head of the editorial column of the Times. Go, young man, by all means, go.

The combination horse sale closed at Lexington Saturday with the sale of 73 horses for $14,775. No high-priced animals were sold, offerings being mostly road and carriage horses. During the six days sale 469 head were sold for $181,710, an average of $387. Woodard's big sale of 800 head began yesterday, during which Bell Boy will be sold. Considerable money is being wagered on what he will bring, the popular estimate being about $60,000.

The Henderson News says: It is generally understood and taken for granted in the southern and western part of the State that Hon. James A. McKee will be a favorite candidate to succeed Gov. Buckner as Governor of Kentucky. His ability and long service to the Democracy render his candidacy peculiarly favorable and strong.

In the West Virginia legislature Friday Kenna received 42 and Goff 42 votes. Goff, Democrat, who might have elected Kenna voted for a man named Lee, which was rather odd treatment for his party nominee. Carr and Kirk, Laborites, voted for Goff. On Saturday the Labor vote left the other candidates and Kenna received 39, Goff 39, Neal 3. Chew 2.

SEEKING PLACES.

Dr. Young Likely to Have His Measure Taken For a Good Fat Office.

As the time approaches for the inauguration ceremonies, the office-seekers are laying wires and their hearts grow heavy with anxiety. Quite a number of our Republican friends are circulating petitions for appointment and even some Democrats hope to retain their portion of the pie.

The present Examining Board for Pensioners, consisting of Drs. Dullin, Blakey and Dennis, petition to be retained and Mr. Coombs has been circulating a petition among ex-Federal soldiers asking their retention, meeting with some success. Dr. Seargent, the Democratic member of the old board, will ask re-appointment and is backed by some influential Republicans. Dr. Jas. A. Young, the surviving Republican member, has been suspiciously quiet and either thinks he has a sure thing on being re-appointed or else means to strike higher. We hear a whisper that in case a certain politician said to be on the slate is called to the treasury department Dr. Young will ask a high position among the medical appointments from the government and we say without reserve that if this is the case we know of no one better fitted to fill one than he. Dr. Young received a liberal education at B-thany College and the Kentucky University and graduated in Medicine at Hahnemann College, Philadelphia. In addition to this he spent some months a few years ago in attendance upon the clinic and hospitals of Cincinnati, attending St. Mary's, the City and the Good Samaritan hospitals and the Surgical clinic of Drs. Mosey and Dawson; the clinics on Women and Children of Drs. Reamy and Hartshorn, and Eye, Ear and Throat by Drs. Sealy and McDermott. Two years subsequently he visited the hospitals of St. Louis, attending the best clinics in the city. Dr. Young filled the place of examining surgeon for pensioners for 13 years, examining in one year 800 applicants and more than 5,000 during his term of office. Few men in the profession, of his age, have had the advantages he has, and he stands deservedly high as a diagnostician and practitioner. The profession in both schools concede his ability and attainments and would join in saying that he is competent to fill any position the coming administration may give him.

A 14-year-old boy named Butter-backer, accidentally shot and killed himself near Shelbyville.

Near Owensboro, Fred Martin, a farmer, blew out the place where his brains ought to have been.

Jim and Enos Howard killed Columbus Osborne in Harlan county in a row over a moonshine still.

The tobacco barn of David Nelson, near Princeton, burned with 3,000 pounds of tobacco, uninsured.

Chas. J. O'Malley, the Union county poet, is a candidate to represent his county in the next legislature.

Geo. Mathews died at Louisville from wounds received in a saloon fight with John Quinn. Quinn is at large.

Mrs. Christy Bush, of Hardin county, sold 1510 pounds of butter last year, from which she realized $340 85. Her cows are Holsteins.

A little son of H. C. Atwood, of Barren county, shot and killed his infant sister while fooling with a gun. The boy was only seven years old.

The Marion county turnpikes are having trouble over a new rule to collect full rates each way from the doctors. The doctors demand free toll on charity visits.

The Sturgis Enterprise gives Co. Jordan Gilg, of the Ohio Valley railroad company, as authority for the statement that that road will soon be extended as far south as Sheffield, Alabama.

A brass ball on the cupola of the Glasgow court house still shows a number of holes shot into it by Texas Rangers in 1864, who did it to display their marksmanship, while standing about the streets.

The cerebro spinal meningitis epidemic has again broken out near Boyleville and Tilden, Webster county. Nearly thirty have died from it already, including Napoleon Asher's entire family of eight persons.

The town Marshal organized a posse and raided four "blind tigers" in Central City and lodged the proprietors in jail. Their names were Denzil Owen, Sam Puckett, Bill Hinnerman and T. R. Clements.

BEVERLY SPARKS.

BEVERLY, Feb. 16.—Mr. J. H. Bradshaw visited friends here Thursday.

Mrs. J. H. Bradshaw, who has been in a critical condition, is recovering slowly.

Mrs. Jesse Giles in convalescing after a protracted spell of pneumonia.

The party given at Mr. John Browning's residence, last Tuesday was immensely enjoyed by the young people who had the opportunity to exchange one smile in every half an hour with their best girl.

Commercial men were here in "squad" daily this week, among whom were, H. A. Crago, representing, Murray, Durrell & Co. Nashville; Solomon Kolinsky, from R. Moses & Co. Cincinnati, O.; J. K. McGowan of W. C. & C. Warren, Louisville, Ky. and Col. John Pye, who was talking up his Philadelphia clothing house. Mr. Pye looks good enough to eat, but he says no other drummer can cook him.

Rev. Wm. Mobley, of Todd, county, visited his daughter Mrs. Kenner last week.

Wheat is looking as green as it usually looks in April. Farmers are making preparations for a large crop.

Rumor says the ball, which was given at Howell last week was a grand success. Mr. Gus Combs of this district "was there" by a large majority.

Would "scratch" more for your most valuable paper, but I have got some plowing to do before it rains.

Mr. L. M. Cayce will teach the spring session, at Liberty school house.

CROFTON.

CROFTON, Ky., Feb. 17.—The Mask Ball was a success socially and we understand financially. Among the dancers we noticed Misses Lena Grissam and Mary Rogers, of your city; Misses Leota Armstrong and Lela Murphy and Belle Parker, of Empire; Miss Cora Mulligan, of Gallatin, Tenn.; and Messrs. R. H. Harrison, Robt. Baker, Wash Ethridge and others of Lexington. It was also well attended by our home people and they danced until 2 a. m.

Some anti-prohibitionists were working the town yesterday but they were met by prohibitionists on every corner, which we think discouraged them very much.

Messrs. Frank Cotton and J. Riley, Long have bought thirty-four county rights for building a patent fence. They will begin the work of selling farm rights at once. Several of our farmers have bought rights and express themselves as well pleased with it.

Mrs. Rosa Coleman is confined to her bed of fever, at her brother-in-law's, Mr. Enoch Walker's.

Mrs. W. M. West, of your city, is visiting her father, Esq. Rice Dullin, here.

The Rev. Sam Small will speak here on temperance at 2 p. m., Monday Feb. 25th. Our people should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the great evangelist.

Our ladies are making arrangements to have a dinner on the second day of March, which will be free for all.

Quarterly meeting will begin here at the M. E. Church next Thursday night.

Rev. John M. West speaks to-night at the M. E. church, on temperance. Buck.

Renovating Old Clothes.

A man who has recently written very extensively on the subject of men's dress, said yesterday: "The utility and value of a cleaner can be overestimated when a man's wardrobe is considered. Many New Yorkers throw a suit of clothes aside or discard a coat or trousers because there is a spot or two visible and a general mussiness about the collar. If they would open negotiations with some little tailor in a side street and have him inspect their clothes regularly once a month and repair the attacks of dust and travel they would find that the improvement, as far as appearance is concerned, would amount to something like seventy-five per cent. A skilful and hard-working tailor can take a disreputable-looking suit of clothes and make them look almost as good as new within three or four days. There are certain properties in soap, water, benzine and the flat-iron which are exceedingly valuable, and men who believe in dressing well should remember it.—N. Y. Sun.

"Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "I have used Ayer's Pills as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. If every victim of this disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. These words would be—'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient Rheumatism."

No medicine could have served me in better stead.—C. C. Rock, Corner, Ayoyelles Parish, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best Pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. Since taking Ayer's Pills, I have been free from these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. I have since used them without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.
